

SENATE ORDERS RATES ON FARM PRODUCTS CUT

Agriculture Relief Legislation Now Outstanding Issue in Congress
—Quick Action Ordered of I. C. C.

BASIC INDUSTRY

The Strongly Opposed to Adjournment Until Some Legislation Is Passed to Aid Farmers
—Tests Soon

Washington, May 12. — Urged by the farm bloc, a joint resolution was passed today directing the Interstate Commerce commission to adjust freight rates to agriculture in any basic industry, and particularly agriculture. It was adopted by virtually no debate, senator King, Democrat, Utah, alone protesting the wisdom of the policy. Farm relief legislation is now an outstanding issue in congress with the farm bloc standing against an adjournment until some measure is enacted to aid agriculture.

The first fight will be made on the McNary-Haugen bill, which will come to a test within a short time, the bloc prepared to champion the Norris-Sinclair bill, while the Curtis-Aswell bill is in the office, and may receive attention although it has not been reported by the senate agriculture committee.

Agriculture Basic Industry.

The rate adjusting resolution was introduced by Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, chairman of the Interstate Commerce commission, and was supported by Senator Cummins, Iowa, who explained the purpose of the resolution was to give the support of congress to the Interstate Commerce commission to use the authority now vested in it.

Speakers for the farm bloc said the resolution would mark a great step forward in helping the farmer in that quick, cheap transportation could be afforded for farm products. The resolution declares that "agriculture is the basic industry of this country, and that it is the policy of congress to promote, encourage, and foster that industry, and especially to make during the existing depression in agriculture."

It directs the Interstate Commerce commission to effect without delay such lawful changes in the rate structure of the country as will promote the freedom of movement by common carrier of the products of agriculture, including live stock, at the lowest possible lawful rate compatible with the maintenance of adequate transportation service.

COMPERS SEES NEED OF HUGE CLEAN UP

Lines of Rascals 'Prejudicial to Interests of Industry, Workers and Contractors'

Montreal, May 12. — Drastic measures for ridding the labor movement of elements which Samuel Compers, president of the American Federation of Labor, described as "rascals" were urged today by the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, which will convene its annual convention in New York city tomorrow.

"We must turn the rascals out," Mr. Compers was said to have declared. "These men and methods are prejudicial to the interest of industry, workers and contractors."

The announcement of the radical group organized labor took place during an executive committee discussion of the rascals in New York city, which was attended by building trades leaders and the Building Trades Union.

Mr. Compers declared after the session to disclose what measures he had proposed for dealing with the rascals, factions or forces in the labor organizations to which he referred. He declared that the rascals were prejudicial to the interest of industry, workers and contractors.

METHODIST RESOLUTION WOULD BAR WAR SUPPORT

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 50, and was the result of a long and heated debate. The resolution states that no church member should be permitted to serve in the armed forces, or to support the war effort, unless he is a member of the church in good standing.

FIRST CHECKS OF BONUS RECEIVED

Norwich Is First Post of Legion to Complete Its Task—Warning to Veterans

Albany, May 12. — Raymond C. Clark of 51 Columbia street, Rensselaer, will be the first New York state World War veteran to receive a bonus check under the recently enacted soldiers' bonus law. His check for $150, the maximum amount which any veteran may receive, was the first check of 100 bonus payments mailed from bonus headquarters in this city today.

Of the 100 checks sent out today, 32 were sent to Norwich post of the American Legion which was the first post in the state to file a complete roster of applicants for the bonus. The list which contained 250 names was received by the bonus commission last week. Of the 50 members of the Norwich post, to whom the checks were sent today, 43 signed their intention to turn over at least a part of the payments to the Veterans' Mountain camp at Tupper Lake.

Applications Pouring In.

Applications for the bonus are coming in in such large numbers that the state bonus commission today authorized the appointment of two night clerks to sort and open mail at the bonus bureau all night long. Twenty bags of mail arrived this morning together with 300 registered letters. It took one clerk 4 1/2 hours to sign for the letters.

George M. Calvert of Syracuse, the blind commander of the Disabled Veterans of the World war, asked the bonus commission today to make arrangements whereby recipients of the bonus may assign their payments to that organization. The matter was referred to Attorney General Sherman for an opinion.

The bonus commission will meet every Monday morning for the purpose to pass on lists of applications for the bonus and to make rulings on the different phases of the situation as they may arise.

Warnings to Veterans.

The bonus commission is sending out the warning to veterans to beware of fake oil and mining stock schemes and promoters of other "gold brick" schemes. Attempts have been made to get lists of veterans getting the bonus, and it is evident that a whole flock of blue sky operators and used car dealers will swoop down on them just as soon as they get their money.

Just property has been made that there used cars will be sold in the next few weeks than ever before in the history of the state. The boys will no longer get their money than they can use it.

Everything from a house and lot to a layer machine. They will be swamped with literature telling of the wonders of lake-side cottages for the summer, Florida orange groves and oil stock investments.

FLOODS THREATEN IN TWO VALLEYS

Hornell Nearly Surrounded—Genesee River Rapidly Approaching Overflow Point

Monticello, May 12. — Continued rains of last night and today are expected to send the Genesee river up to flood height again by tomorrow morning, and should there be no let up in the rain tomorrow it is possible the Genesee valley may once more be flooded. Measurements at the power dam here today showed that the water was several feet above the usual spring mark, without considering the present storm, as it usually takes from 12 to 15 hours for the river to reach its highest point following a storm.

The Genesee and Keshqua creeks, two of the largest streams feeding the Genesee river in this locality, are almost at flood height, and in a number of places these creeks have overflowed their banks. Between Nunda and Monticello, the Genesee creek has done considerable damage.

HORNELL NEARLY SURROUNDED

Hornell, May 12. — This city is almost surrounded by water this evening as the Genesee river, swollen by several days of steady rain, overflowed its banks both north and south of the city.

JAP MINISTRY OVERTURNED

By the Associated Press.

Tokyo, May 12. — With returns from all but 25 wards, the opposition secured a substantial majority in the lower house of the diet over the Komeito cabinet. Three parties pledged to fight the present cabinet—the Komeito, Seiyukai and Kakushin Clubs—have already secured 260 seats in a house of 444. It seems unlikely that the government supporters, including the Seiyukai and business circles, will have more than 180 seats.

The court expects to impose sentence tomorrow.

Simmons Will Seek Democratic Majority of Senate Members Unless Promise Given Not to "Slaughter" Bill

Washington, May 12. — The revenue bill reached the cross roads today and administration spokesmen warned Republican leaders in congress to obtain in conference modification of the legislation as passed by the senate or prepare to accept a veto. The general fiscal situation was thoroughly gone over today at the White House at a conference between President Coolidge, Secretary Mellon, and Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee.

Why They're Using Joint-Ease for Running Feet

Just because it is now known that sprains, sore, aching, swollen feet caused by the many joints in the foot and joint-knocks right in and gets to the seat of the trouble—the cartilage and ligaments of the joints.

And to think that for generations we have been powdering and soaking our feet, thinking the trouble was only skin deep—an old-fashioned idea.

Well, better late than never—just stop the powdering and soaking and use Joint-Ease for three days and just rub on Joint-Ease—And remember when Joint-Ease goes in, you get a cooling sensation—a relief. Refreshing a Ship-

AS BIG LEAGUERS PLAY IT

What is the best way of taking care of a good bat?

Answered by JACK WESTLEY

Pitcher, New York Giants, known as a terrific slugger. Purchased from Baltimore for approximately $45,000.

A good baseball bat should be protected by a player because it is one of his most effective working tools. It can be protected by not allowing it to come in contact with extreme temperature changes and by keeping it from very damp places or very dry places.

If you really want to get a regular "knockout" of a bat, pick out one which satisfies you and rub it in linseed oil day after day. In about two weeks or a month it will begin to get "ripe." It will feel like a piece of fine tool steel in your hands and when it connects with the ball it will give off a ring which is almost metallic. Furthermore, such a bat will knock a ball farther, having more resiliency and "bite."

PENN WINS REGATTA

Pennsylvania Easily Takes All Three Events by Good Margins, Leads Standing from Four to 10 Lengths in Three Events—Weather Conditions Good—Columbia Withdraws.

Cambridge, Mass., May 12. — The variety of Pennsylvania made a clean sweep of the regatta on the Cambridge river today, easily winning the variety, junior variety, and 150-pound crew events, in every case by a wide margin.

In the senior event, Penn's heavyweight, struck by Donald Iringer of three, Wm. Wm., romped over the finish line five lengths ahead of Harvard, its only competitor. In the junior variety the Penn crewman had some 10 lengths to the good, with Tracy, Penn's second, and Harvard trailing. Penn's lead over Harvard in the 150-pound crew race, rowed over the Henley distance, was four lengths.

The regatta was held under adverse weather conditions. A strong northwest wind and rough water, conditions which led to postponement of the race on Saturday, prevailed again today.

The first event, the light crew race, was started after 4 o'clock and when the variety race, the last in the program, was reached the course was all but hidden by fog and darkness.

Saturday's postponement led to the withdrawal of Columbia's variety and junior variety crews, the faculty refusing their permission to remain over.

Time: Variety race—Pennsylvania,
5:42; Harvard, 10:09.

10; Tech, 19:25; Harvard, 19:45.

BUSH AND SCHANG

There is always a thrill for good ball fans in the announcement "for New York—Bush and Schang"—for here is a battery that is one of the finest of modern times. One of the few that will rank with the immortal combinations of Mathewson and Dwight, Walsh and Sullivan, and Brown and Kling.

Both Joe Bush and Wally Schang were formerly with Connie Mack's famous Athletics and in October, 1913, they beat the Giants in one of the world's series games at the Polo grounds. Bush, "Bullet" Mathewson with his bullet delivery and Schang helped with a home run. Being pals, they decided to celebrate with a double wedding and both married on October 14, 1913.

Ten years rolled by and October 14, 1923, came around with Bush and Schang the star battery for the Yankees in their third world's series against the Giants. Again they beat McGraw at the Polo grounds, by way of celebrating the wedding anniversary, and Joe pitched an even better game than he did in 1913, Irish Mauson, a single, a double and a triple and made a run, but no other giant able to get a hit or score off Joe's delivery.

Is a dull, constant backache slowing you up? Are you weary after a day's work? When the kidneys weaken the system becomes overloaded with poisons. Backache, rattling pains, headaches, dizziness and urinary disorders result. Don't wait for serious kidney results. For a few days a reliable dis-home. Ask your neighbor!

Another Oneonta Case:

Mrs. J. W. Murphy, 11 Gault street, says: "If I did much stooping or lifting,
I had sharp pains across my back and it was hard to do anything. Then springs came on suddenly and my right side was paralyzed. My foot dropped and my legs were stiff. I was unable to move until I was cured here at home. Ask your neighbor!"

SUDDEN DEATH AT UNADILLA

Charles Cagwin Goes for Doctor for Ailing Wife and Expires on Train Home With Physician — Funeral Wednesday.

Unadilla, May 12. — Charles Cagwin expired suddenly Sunday afternoon at 6 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Cagwin had been motoring with friends, and on their return he asked his wife, who is not well, how she felt. She replied that she was tired. Feeling anxious about her but without telling his intention, he went after a physician, who returned with him. He spoke to his wife and turned as though to sit down on the couch, but fell to the floor, dead. The cause was heart trouble.

Mr. Cagwin was 55 years of age. He was born in the town of Sidney, the son of Hiram and Electa Smith Cagwin. When quite young he was married to Ellen Couse. She was the mother of his children. Her death occurred about 19 years ago. About 11 years ago he was married to Mrs. Calista Alker.

MOVEMENT OF TRADE

In earlier years there was believed to be a practically uniform series of trade cycles, the average duration of these movements being about ten years, during which business conditions would oscillate between high prices with business activity, and low prices with unemployment. The tremendous momentum, however, given to industry by the war, has seemed to eliminate anything like uniformity or deliberation in the operation of trade cycles. In 1919, says the Chicago Review, we had a rush-up squalling those of the exciting war periods. In 1920-21, there was a rush-back to depression, with smashing prices. In 1922-23, acceleration again developed and continued through the first two months of 1924. Now the setback has begun again and is growing, but in a more orderly manner. These comparatively quick changes, instead of the slowly developing business cycles of the past, are accounted for, in part, by the great production capacity built up during the war. This has made it possible, when demand was growing, to meet it quickly, by speeding up production, and to cut consumption has been so soon met and passed was due to the great capacity and efficiency which the war brought into existence. That it is an over-capacity for present requirements, there is no doubt.

It has made quick filling of orders a possibility and a habit, and this, combined with the greatly increased efficiency for prompt delivery on the part of the railroads, has made it unnecessary for merchants to order far ahead, as used to be the case. Hence the dearth—almost elimination—of forward orders.

Such a state of things abolishes speculation, and it has instituted the hand-to-mouth policy so typical of present operations. Prices, under such conditions, feel more quickly the effects of under-supply and over supply.

Commodity prices are declining now because of this over-production, which reached its peak in February, March and is now being rapidly curtailed. Steel production for the industry as a whole, is down to 85 per cent of 1923 production; automobile output has been reduced 15 per cent or more from the peak. The readjustment is proceeding even more quickly than the former production increase.

All the indexes of commodity prices show a general tendency to be below that of a year ago.

The readjustment in over-production which is taking place, will, it would seem, work out its own cure—the decline in stocks of goods, with consumption keeping up, eventually bringing about readjusting and resumption of production activity, which is probably not far off.

SOLDIERS IN POLITICS

The suggestion made in some quarters that General Pershing should be the running mate for President Coolidge next fall on the Republican national ticket has been followed by a brief statement by the war general, to the effect that he will not be a candidate for the vice-presidency and that he would not accept the designation even if the convention should nominate him. This probably ends the matter, and the leaders must look elsewhere for their second nominee.

There is nothing in the statement that General Pershing would not possibly accept the higher nomination, but such denial would have been an act of supererogation, and moreover there is no possibility of the party seeking any other candidate than the present incumbent. And for a further consideration, military experience is not considered nowadays as an indispensable consideration for public office.

This was not always so. Beginning with the first president and coming down through the ages it will be seen how military service attracted attention. Washington, from the Revolutionary War, Jackson from the War of 1812, Taylor from the Mexican War, Grant from the Rebellion, Roosevelt from the Spanish war were presidents drawn from the military service. Grant to McKinley had a Civil War record.

At present no such a spirit seems to prevail, and perhaps it is just as well. The spirit of militarism has largely died out in a country which is urging so zealously the limitation of armaments. Whether it will ever come back will depend on whether the war spirit again is in the ascendant.

An interesting fact in connection with presidents, however, is that though soldiers have been made chief executives at war's end, the war presidents of the country have not been soldiers. Madison, Lincoln, and Wilson are evidence of this fact.

Otsego Boy Enlists for Year

Clarence Wakath of Otsego has been enlisted by Sergeant Harry Diener of the local recruiting station for a year in the 10th Infantry, stationed at McDowell barracks, N. Y. According to Sergeant Diener the 10th Infantry is one of the most interesting of the many branches of the army, included in the course of instruction being horsemanship, work on and driving of automobiles, blacksmithing, telephony, telegraphy, radio and map making.

Have Found Treat from Superstitions

The good old Superstitions should not be overlooked as a treat stream, as is evidenced by the fact that a seven-day hunt went, weighing three pounds, was found in the woods by Mrs. J. J. Thompson, who was hunting in the woods near the Otsego-Schoharie line. The fish attracted no little attention when exhibited in the window of the drug store.

GUARD DEFEATS REGULARS

Twelve Infantry Rifle Team Scores Margin of Thirty Points in Match
 With Twenty-Third Regiment

Sergeant Percy A. Wood and Private Adrian Blanchard, both members of Co. D, of this city, returned last evening from Plattsburgh, where yesterday they competed as members of the rifle team of the 10th Infantry of the National Guard in the match with the 16th Infantry of the regular army, an event which the guard won by a margin of 30 points. The guard captured every event except the 600 yard slow fire, which they lost by a margin of only three points. The events won by the Tenth were the 300 yard slow fire and the 200 and 400 yard events.

Sergeant Wood made the fourth high score made for the day, he having a score of 114 of a possible 120. When it is considered that the high total was 157 his mark is all the more creditable.

When the scores were totaled it was found that the Guardsmen had run up a total of 2,441 points and the regulars had scored 2,411. The match was hotly contested throughout, with picked marksmen from each of the regiments doing their utmost to uphold the records of their respective organizations. Considerable excitement prevailed among the spectators back of the firing points, when it was noted that the scores of the two teams were practically the same as the marksmen moved from range to range.

When the final totals were announced the men of the Regular Army team gave three rousing cheers for their opponents of the Guard. The compliment was returned with fervor by the latter. Commanders and other officers of the two regiments exchanged congratulations on the splendid scores obtained and plans were advanced for another to be held between teams of these two organizations in coming months. Officers and men of the visiting National Guard team were sumptuously entertained at the barracks.

Members of the regiment are confident of additional victories in the matches to be held during the annual period of field training at Peekskill this summer.

BIG AWARD SET ASIDE

Appellate Court Affirms the Order of Justice Howard Setting Aside Award to Tri-County Company.

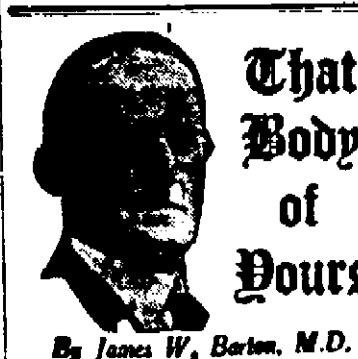

The appellate division of the supreme court, in a decision handed down recently, unanimously affirmed with costs, the order of the lower court setting aside the award of the commission in the matter of the condemnation proceedings brought by the city of New York against the Tri-County Light and Power company and ordering the appointment of a new commission.

The original commission awarded the Tri-County company, which was controlled by Judge John P. Grant, the sum of $155,000. When the award came before Justice Howard for confirmation he set aside the award and ordered the appointment of a new commission, holding in his opinion that the commission had proceeded on the wrong theory of valuation in that they took under consideration the future value of the franchise of the lighting company instead of the present value of franchises and plant equipment.

The Tri-County company appealed from this order, but the higher court has now sustained the order. The electric light plant is at Gilboa.

BAD TREATMENT

During a small pox scare just a few years ago all the students of a university were vaccinated, nearly four thousand in number.

As over 90 per cent of them were real fit individuals, there was little if any sickness encountered, but nearly a hundred of them had sore arms.

As there is a slight epidemic in different parts of the United States and Canada at present, it might be just as well to go into the matter of sore arms.

Whether you believe in vaccination or not it is possible that you may have to undergo the process. My suggestion is that you do not use the vaccination "shields." Why the medical profession stand for them let alone recommend them is beyond me.

A word of any kind always heats better when it is not caught it and where it is not up to moist. This shield retains heat and moisture most effectively.

Further, there is always a pressure on the arm from them, that breaks down the tissue surrounding the vaccination sore, and the sore becomes many times larger than it otherwise would.

In practically every case with sore arms mentioned above they had been wearing these shields. In addition to the same proper many had enlarged sores in the arm pit which added to their distress. The shields were immediately ripped off the ordinary borax solution used as a cleanser, and recovery quickly ensued.

Most physicians do not bother with any dressing whatever after vaccination. The one precaution that is taken is to pin a square piece of gauze on the underlying tissue immediately in contact with the sore. This can be removed daily.

Then there is no washing, dressing or meddling in any way with the sore, and it heals up in a very short time.

Most of the bad arms and accompanying lesions are due to this very attempt to treat and dress the sore. And the greatest evil of all is the vaccination shield.

A party composed of U. A. Ferguson, C. M. Marble and H. A. Pearson leave soon for a few days' trout fishing in Beaver river in the Adirondacks.

Appearance indicate that the Otsego County Elidpath commission, which formerly maintained several miles of elidpath on the road to Otsego in good condition, is dead. The waning of cycling is largely responsible for the abandonment of the path. There are few indeed now who ride for pleasure and the number of wheels seen is comparatively small.

The new armory for Company G, according to the plans and specifications as approved by the State Army commission, is now a certainty. Governor Odell has approved the plan and the annual supply bill making the additional appropriation of $12,500 to supply the deficit between the first appropriation of $50,000 and the cost of the proposed structure, because W. L. Brown is largely responsible for both appropriations.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Hugh Ford Stewart of Los Angeles, Cal., a member of one of Otsego's oldest families, and Miss Alice Graves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Graves of Alhambra, a fashionable suburb of Los Angeles. Mr. Graves is a wealthy and influential citizen of Los Angeles. Mr. Stewart is now assistant general passenger agent of H. E. Huntington's extensive system of electric railways in and about Los Angeles.

THE GUIDE POST—BY Henry and Tertius VanDyke

GOSPEL RADIATION

And unto the uttermost part of the earth.—Acts 1: 8.

The missionary enterprise of the church has no national or geographical limits.

It has a method which may be called the method of radiation.

Beginning at Jerusalem, it is to spread outward through Judaea and Samaria, unto the uttermost part of the earth.

The circle are concentric, but not coterminal.

There is no fixed distance at which they are to stop.

There is no line where the gospel must halt and turn back upon itself, and say:

"Thus far can I go, and no farther."

Above all, there is no wall or barrier to divide home missions from foreign missions.

To separate these two things from each other is to divide them both from Christ. For He never saw or acknowledged any such division.

He called disciples in order that they might call other disciples.

He chose nations in order that they might be messengers to other nations.

He gave Christianity a home in the world in order that it might make the whole world its home.

The sole boundary of the religion of Jesus is the ring of the round earth.

This Christ plainly told his apostles at the beginning.

But the church has not fully learned it yet.

Dress Up!

No man can afford to keep all his style in his wife's name.

It's the same in New York --- and in New Orleans

Personally, have you a friend who would like to buy a very poorly constructed out-of-style suit today at even $10?

Or, have you in your acquaintance a woman—any age—who would think of purchasing a bygone unfashionable hat at any price?

It's the same in New York—New Orleans—Devils Lake, Iowa—and it's the same in Otsego.

The people are demanding style—they are looking on quality and when a store delivers both at a value giving price—it finds business too good to worry about!

See us smiling—? That's because of the 20 per cent increase in sales last month!

The award of the contract by the local lodge, E. of R. ### CONCERT AT HIGH SCHOOL Annual Event to Be Held Friday Evening, May 23.

A meeting of the musical clubs of the Oneonta High school was held last evening in the auditorium of the school and a very successful rehearsal for the annual Glee and Choral club concert was held.

The concert is to be held this year on Friday evening, May 23, in the High school auditorium. The program is to be given in two parts, the first an opera by the primary grades of the Academy Street school and the last part by the Musical clubs of Oneonta High.

Arrangements have been made so that the patrons of this annual concert will listen to one of the best concerts in the history of the school. In the past the concert has not had the patronage that the program deserves and every means possible have been taken this year that all will be well satisfied. The price of admission is still 25 cents.

The officers of the annual concert have added the opera this year as a special inducement to those who will be fortunate enough to attend. There is nothing in the way of an amateur or operator than one given by the little folks. And in this case the voices are unusually good.

A MASSIVE TROPHY

Purchased by Mrs. B. F. Wilber for Big New Zealand Fair

ON DISPLAY AT BRIGHAM'S

Will Be Completed for Annually by Lighthouse-Frisland Breeds of That Country—Gift in Token of Appreciation for Concrete Breeds and of Regard for People and Country—Replica to Be Provided Annually for Winner.

One of the finest trophies ever seen in the city is the one now on exhibition at the store of R. E. Brigham, which the latter is supplying to Hon. David F. Wilber, former consul general of the United States at New Zealand, to be forwarded to the latter country and to be competed for by the Holstein-Frisland breeders of that country annually.

The subject consists of a massive silver vase with cover and mounted upon an ebony base and enclosed in a solid mahogany cabinet. The total height, including base, is 54 1/2 inches. The vase is of Greek outline with ornamental bands of laurel leaves and borders of laurel leaves.

The cover is surmounted by a silver model of a Holstein-Frisland bull, which has been colored true to nature through the silversmith's art in oxidizing the dark spots and in bringing out the pure white. This particular feature had to be made true to type and was specially modeled for this trophy, and it will prove the outstanding feature of the trophy to breeders, who will recognize its accuracy and perfection.

The raised etching inscription on the side of the vase is:

"The Wilber Remembrance Trophy presented to Manawatu and West Coast A. & P. Association, Palmerston North, New Zealand, by Hon. David F. Wilber, Consul General, U. S. A. New Zealand, 1921-1923, for Best Frisian Group, Consisting of Bull (over two years), aged cow, three years old, and two-year-old heifers. First competition, November, 1924."

The trophy will be forwarded to New Zealand and will be retained by the association as a permanent exhibit at the exposition grounds. Mr. Wilber will provide the association each year with a miniature or replica of the trophy, which will become the property of the winner for that year.

The generous gift of Mr. Wilber is a token of appreciation for the numerous courtesies extended to him during his sojourn in that country. On four occasions he was the guest of the association at its semi-annual exhibition and during his sojourn there the officers were among his best friends. They rendered him valuable aid and the breeders of the black and white cattle were among his warmest personal friends.

Upon his return to America, after his wide experience in the consular service, he expressed himself as cherishing a hearty regard not only for the country but for the people of New Zealand and the trophy is in the bigger and broader sense an evidence of this esteem.

The Agricultural and Pastoral association is one of the largest of the agricultural fairs of the country and it is a pleasure to promote the industry. In forwarding a token of his regard for the people of the country, it was quite natural that he should turn to the breeders of the cattle in which he was for so many years actively interested in this country and that the association which had been his host on several occasions should be the medium of the presentation.

The trophy, which is being much admired by all who see it, was secured from the William B. Durgin company, which substituted this design, the handwork of Charles F. Simms, in competition with the designs of other manufacturers. Mr. Wilber is to be congratulated upon the selection and Mr. Brigham is naturally gratified that it is so satisfactory to former Consul General Wilber.

W. E. Hunt Takes Business Partner.

William E. Hunt, who since 1918 has been conducting plumbing, heating and sheet metal work business at 1-7 Hamilton avenue, announces that he has recently taken into partnership Thomas Evans, formerly of Hartford, Conn., and that the business will be conducted along previous lines by the new firm known as William E. Hunt & Co.

Mr. Hunt states that Mr. Evans is thoroughly experienced in the various lines of the business and the latter will supervise the outside work while Mr. Hunt will devote his attention to shop and office. The business since its founding in 1918 has grown gratifyingly, and for some time Mr. Hunt has felt the need of a partner to relieve him of some of the work.

NATIONAL HOSPITAL DAY

Many Visit Fox Memorial Hospital on Anniversary of Florence Nightingale.

Yesterday, the birthday anniversary of Florence Nightingale, nationally observed as Hospital Day, was the occasion of many visits of inspection to the Fox Memorial hospital, in spite of the unfavorable weather conditions. All who were about the institution expressed themselves as uniformly surprised with the size of that undertaking and as very favorably impressed as to the conduct of the hospital.

Last evening a card party was held at St. James' parish house, the use of which was kindly donated for the purpose, and more than $100 was realized for the benefit of the hospital. Mrs. H. W. Fluhrer, chairman of the woman's board of the Fox Memorial hospital, was in charge of the arrangements and at the close of the evening of cards, which proved fully enjoyable to the 200 ladies who were present, spoke a few words concerning the institution and its needs.

She said that despite the general understanding, the operating deficit of the hospital was not met by the endowment of the association, one fully sufficient at the time it was arranged, but which has not grown as additions have been necessary to the building and overhead, not with the increased cost of labor and materials. The prizes for the evening, two of which were donated by Mrs. M. L. Ford and Miss Marian Fager, being very attractive articles purchased by the ladies in Paris, and the other purchased by the committee, were awarded to Mrs. Ackley, Mrs. Welch, and Mrs. Hathaway.

FIRST SUMMER TRADE DAY

Opening Event of Drive of Oneonta Merchants for Strong Summer Business Occurs on Friday, May 16.

The merchants of Oneonta will launch a series of monthly trade days for the coming summer on Friday of this week when a cooperative sale will be conducted by the live and progressive business men of the city. All lines of merchandise will be offered at attractive prices, in an endeavor to widen the shopping district of Oneonta, and the attention of all residents of this vicinity is called to the day, Friday, May 16, when they may purchase in Oneonta to even greater advantage than is daily offered.

In the past few years Oneonta has been teeming ahead in the quality and selection of merchandise which its merchants provide, and at the same time, due largely to volume and wise buying, coupled with rapid turnover of stocks, prices have remained comparatively low.

The cooperative trade days are but another manifestation by Oneonta merchants of the fact that they want, and wish to merit, the patronage of an ever widening circle. Special rates have been arranged on the trolley, but doubtless the larger majority of thrifty shoppers will journey to the city in their motor cars.

Watch the advertising columns of The Star for the special values of trade day will be found there, just as are the every day bargains.

Woman's Club.

April dues are to be paid to the treasurer, Mrs. C. C. Colburn, 55 Center street.

COBLESKILL ROTARY

Charter Presented to New Club With Impressive Ceremonies Last Evening

Cobleskill Club the Child of Oneonta Rotary, Which Needs Over 40 New to Witness Baptism of Its Offspring—Arthur Seybolt, Special Representative in Charge of Organization, Tomorrow—Two District Governors Present.

With ceremonies in which addresses of high merit were combined with an abundance of fun and good fellowship, Cobleskill Rotary club, second child of Oneonta Rotary, was initiated into ranks of International Rotary last evening. Raymond J. Knoepfel of New York, governor of the 29th district, presenting the charter in the presence of Governor Edwin R. Weeks of the 28th district and large delegations from the clubs at Oneonta, Cooperstown, Amsterdam, Albany and Troy, Oneonta, the parent club, was represented by over 40 members, and Cooperstown sent over 20 to welcome the new club into the fold, as it itself was welcomed but a few months ago.

Under the direction of Arthur Seybolt as special representative of the district governor plans for the big event had been under way for several weeks and they came to fruition last evening in a program which could not be surpassed for quality of the addresses and entertainment features. The Cobleskill club was privileged to listen to able expositions of the principles and ideals of Rotary and to get an insight into the rare quality of friendliness and good feeling which pervades all Rotary gatherings and if it profits by all it saw and heard a successful future is vouchsafed it.

The banquet, served in the main dining room of the Hotel Augustus was a marvel of the culinary art and although the service was necessarily slow on account of the greatly increased size of the gathering over what had been expected the meal was greatly enjoyed. During the course of the dinner a numerous Rotary and popular songs were sung under the capable direction of Arthur B. Wheeler of this city. The Cobleskill Rotarians, garbed in jumpers, bibs and baby caps as befitted their juvenile state, presented a clever song in which the merits of Oneonta Rotary in general and of several Oneonta Rotarians in particular were set forth, and Cooperstown had several contributions to the musical program. The playing of the Cooperstown Rotary orchestra was a feature of the evening. Because of lack of time the Village Choir of Oneonta Rotary was excused from its scheduled appearance, to the great disappointment of those who had expected, and rightly so, a musical contribution of great merit.

Addresses of Great Merit.

Arthur Seybolt of Oneonta, the man who above all others is responsible for the forming and growth of the Cobleskill club, presided as toastmaster, presenting the speakers in a very felicitous manner. The first address of the evening was the parents' charge, by President Frank M. Gurney of Oneonta. Mr. Gurney's address was one of the best of the evening and many of the points he brought out were touched upon in a complimentary manner by later speakers.

The high notes of the evening were struck by Governor Knoepfel in his charter presentation speech, one of the most eloquent and thought inspiring ever delivered to a Rotary audience in this section. After thanking Oneonta Rotary for its part in creating a new club for a district not its own, Governor "Ray" launched into a discussion of Rotary ideals and principles which lasted for fully 45 minutes, but which held the closest attention of those present until the very last word.

Governor Knoepfel spoke of the international scope of the Rotary spirit and stressed the point that Rotary did not come into being to bring a new idea into the world but simply to make effective the various forces for good already at work. He spoke of the great Rotary ideal of service and said that each Rotarian must apply it first to himself and then to his business. Rotarians are the trustees of the ideals of the crafts and professions represented in Rotary membership and must be good stewards of the trust reposed in them.

An closing his splendid address Governor Knoepfel cited the following characteristics of a true Rotarian: 1. Kindliness; 2. Loyalty to God, country, self and friend; 3. Tolerance; 4. Justice; 5. Unselfishness.

In presenting the charter to President George Ryder of the Binghamton club the district governor said that he was sure that it was going to be a club which would bring great credit to the great Rotary family.

In his earnest and eloquent acceptance of the charter, President Ryder spoke of the glorious history of Schenectady county and said that the installation of the first Rotary club in the county was an event of great historical significance. Inasmuch as it was providing an opportunity for a service of the highest type to the people of the county. Characterizing Rotary as applied Christianity, Mr. Ryder pledged his club to the fulfillment of its new obligations.

Many Clubs Represented. Oneonta sent 40 men to the meeting and Cooperstown over 20. Amsterdam Rotary was represented by 13 men, headed by President Wilbur H. Lynch, formerly of Oneonta. Albany by 12, Troy by 10, New York by two and Binghamton and Rome by one each.

GERRYS AT LAKE DELAWARE

Other Millionaires Owning Country Estates in Delaware County, Spend Little Time There.

Commodore Gerry, who is now 5 years old, is closing his house on Fifth avenue, New York city, and preparing to come up to Lake Delaware for a season.

For all his advanced age the commodore manures his vast blocks of metropolitan realty. Many of the built and social affairs that have taken place at the Gerry Fifth avenue home, now about to be closed for the summer, have taken precedence in the matter of exclusiveness, over the Astor's tepidness and revels.

Others of the Gerry family, who have homes at Lake Delaware and spend the summer there, are Mable, Angelica, Peter, a United States senator from Rhode Island, and "Bob," sons and daughters of the commodore.

er wealthy and prominent families located in the upper part of Delaware county might be mentioned the Sheldons at Delhi, the McLeans and Andrews at South Kortright and the Goudas on Dry brook, near Arkville.

It is to be regretted that with the exception of the Gerrys, the other mansions and acres are not being kept up. The McLean estate is no longer occupied by members of the family. The Andrews spend but little time at their beautiful country home and the famous Sheldon estate at Delhi is unoccupied and for sale. The Goudas come less often to their Delaware county home and seem to take the active interest in the countryside as in the years gone by.

Delhi, May 12. — The State School of Agriculture at Delhi, has been appointed to maintain a teachers' training class. The work differs somewhat from a regular training class course in that sufficient agriculture rural sociology, rural economics and home making are taught to cause the prospective teacher to be in sympathy with country life conditions and to have the respect of the trustees and the patrons of the school. The girls have rooms in the domestic science building without expense. Board at the co-operative boarding club, does not cost more than $5 a week. The course has been maintained for three years. During that time no student failed to obtain a certificate. No student failed in any subject in the last January examinations.

The men in the various departments of the school are putting in demonstration plants in fields and gardens, also assisting in putting in the general farm crops. The school co-operates with the State College of Agriculture at Ithaca in growing at the school this year test plots of oats and corn, in putting in extensive area of pasture treated with different seeds and fertilizers and in carrying on at the state school and on two other farms, test plots on cauliflower. ## RURAL PASTORS' SCHOOL

July 7 to 19 Dates Set for Conference at Cornell University — Out of Town and Country Ministers.

A summer school for town and country pastors will be held in Barnes hall, Ithaca, from July 7 to 19. The program in being arranged by the country life division of the state college of agriculture and the United Christian work at Cornell, as the organization interested in religious work among the students of the university is known. There will be no fees or other expenses except room and board.

The instructing staff numbers more than a dozen members of the Cornell faculty, religious workers from other states and successful New York pastors. Those from away from Ithaca include Prof. M. A. Lawber, former country pastor and now director of rural church extension of Boston University, and Dr. Malcolm Dana of Charles City, Iowa, secretary of the country church work of the Congregational denomination. Prof. Lawber gave a number of lectures during the pastors' conference held during farmers' week in February and made such a favorable impression that he was obtained for the summer school.

Almost every subject of interest to village and country ministers will be taken up at the noon forum by special speakers, and consecutive courses of from five to ten lectures will be given on the village, the larger parish program, rural church administration, church building and equipment, recreational leadership and modern religious education.

The daily program is so arranged that the time from 2 to 4 o'clock will be free for the ministers to visit the many spots of scenic and historic interest in and around Ithaca. It is the thought of those arranging the conference that the ministers may be able to combine a time for study with a vacation.

Arrangements are in charge of Prof. R. A. Felton of the college, and the Rev. J. A. G. Moore of the United Christian work. Both may be addressed at Ithaca.

En Route to General Conference.

Henry T. Conking of Earlville, formerly D. & H. agent in this city and later flour and feed merchant at Hobart, where he was associated with E. T. Vanhook, and a man well and pleasantly remembered in this section, was in the city yesterday, accompanied by his pastor, Rev. H. J. Carey of the Methodist church at Earlville, while en route to Springfield, Mass., where for the week they will attend the general conference of the church named. They were motoring and went to Hobart late in the afternoon, where they passed the night as guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Vanhook. They expected to reach Springfield by mid-afternoon today. Mr. Conking only recently returned from Florida, he and Mrs. Conking having passed the winter at St. Petersburg, in that city, with C. D. Ham, formerly general superintendent of the D. & H. railroad.

HIGHWAY WORK PROGRESS

Figures Show New York in Leading Position and Oiling in Steady Completion.

Figures taken from a bulletin issued yesterday by W. W. Brandt, commissioner of the New York State Bureau of Highways, show that the number of men employed by contractors and by the state as well in highway construction has increased considerably during the past few weeks, and that the total square yards of pavement completed last week is a considerable increase over previous ones.

The oiling program throughout the state is now in full swing and will be completed much earlier than has ever been the case, perhaps by the middle of June.

Following are some of the figures contained in the bulletin of Commissioner Brandt:

147 new contracts under way. 2,645 employed by contractors. 4,195 state maintenance force. 21,541 sq. yds. work last week. 24,372 sq. yds. work this year.

Petroleum Production.

Petroleum production, according to a recent issue of the Oil and Gas Journal, has two distinct phases known as flush production and settled production. When a well is first brought in, its yield is usually the heaviest, and frequently becomes what is known as a gusher, or a flowing well, especially when favored by gas or rock pressure. After a certain time, however, varying greatly in different fields, the well ceases to deliver at its high initial gush, and settles down to frequently a relatively small flow. Sometimes it ceases to flow of itself and must be put on a pump. It often stops entirely. The result is that as new wells decline in output, in order to keep up the level of production demanded by the 15 millions of cars in this country, new sources of supply must be sought, and existing wells pumped to their utmost capacity.

This uncertain condition is one reason why the industry is constantly on the alert to increase its sources of crude oil, and also why its record in keeping pace with the enormous increase in motor cars is all the more remarkable.
